“To be an extraordinary team you must strive for goals others may think of as impossible, then create systems and relationships which out perform the competition.”

Team Building Program Summaries

During the course of that challenge, the group strives to earn team will design and build a race car. At the completion, each group will introduce their car along with a short presentation.

GPS Quest utilizing hand held GPS technology, we offer over a dozen variations of scavenger hunt events ranging from the simple to the complex, incorporating low, medium and high impact initiatives. Our most popular GPS Quest allows individual teams to navigate to waypoints, hidden initiatives where they must perform a physical challenge. During the course of that challenge, the group strives to earn revenue. The more efficiently they perform the task, the more revenue earned. The small team with the most earned revenue at the completion of the event...wins. How does this translate into a win-win scenario for the large team as a whole?

Race Car Quest design it, build it, hop on and race it. Using supplies provided by Corporate Quest, each individual team will design and build a race car. At the completion, each group will introduce their car along with a short presentation. The individual teams will then race their car in organized heats until one is ultimately the winner. Regatta Quest our “wet” version of Race Car Quest, design it, build it, hop on and race it, try to stay dry. Using supplies provided by Corporate

Quest, each individual team will design and build a boat. At the completion, each group will introduce their boat along with a short presentation. The individual teams will then race their boat in organized heats until one is ultimately the winner. Comedy Quest our Corporate Improv. This is one of our most popular events. Think you can't be funny? Our staff of comedians will coach you in the language of humor. Laughter is the universal path to unity. Staff comedians facilitate participants through a series of challenges and activities which ultimately result in a wildly fun and funny event. Rhythm Quest a percussion based program in which participants find their individual rhythm, their team rhythm, and ultimately their corporate rhythm. Each participant is assigned a percussion instrument. Our award winning musician will teach the group several challenging percussion based arrangements. Utilizing this variety of instruments, each individual team will build on what they've learned and create their own arrangement. Following individual team presentations, the CQ musician will facilitate an exciting and moving jam session.

Olympic Quest a decathlon type event in which participants are challenged with a sequence of low, medium and high impact initiatives, competing against the clock. In sequence, each individual team will move to a setup where they will perform a physical challenge. The team with the lowest time at the completion of all challenges wins the event.

Survivor Quest earth, wind, fire, water. Using Mother Nature's tools, learn the skills then survive and thrive as a team. Culinary Quest Iron Chef meets Hell's Kitchen meets Team Building. Come with an open mind and an empty stomach. A world class team development and dining experience.

Equestrian Quest For centuries barely visible communication on non verbal levels formed powerful partnerships between horses and riders. These time tested ancient skills are proving to be excellent management and leadership training points. In learning how to establish a relationship with these highly social and intuitive creatures, you'll discover new communication and leadership skills. High Ropes Quest a challenging, safe and fun outdoor personal and team development activity, consisting of high and low elements. Community Quest team development that gives back. An event that transcends the day. Champion a cause. Be the change you want to see in the world. PIT Crew Quest a hands-on, real life, 5off-5on MOTORSPORTS team pit stop experience with authentic vehicles, pit setup, uniforms and equipment. Team Golf Eagle Quest design your clubs, build your clubs, FORE! Using supplies provided by Corporate Quest, each individual team will design and build a set of golf clubs. Two holes from tee to pin will determine the winner based on quality, imagination and skill. Team Charter Quest through Corporate Quest's process we help companies align strategically behind a Strategic Action Plan. Full Custom Quest if you can visualize it, we can make it happen.
